Advent can often feel like a countdown to Christmas and a hustle of preparation for the holidays, when in fact the liturgical season is all about waiting – not for a short-lived celebration, but for a person.

One way our parish is seeking to prepare well for Christ's Nativity is with a special program from Ascension with Fr. Mike Schmitz called Waiting Well, which features daily reflections, prayer and opportunities for journaling.

The journal includes weekly activities and resources to help individuals and families enter into the season of Advent.

This Advent, we can learn to wait well together as a parish family. We will be holding an Advent Mission Night weekly where those who join will receive their free journal and participate in a 4 week small group. Families are welcomed and encouraged to join. If you are not able to join in the weekly small group we invite you to take the journal home to your families and participate in the weekly discussions that will be in each week's bulletin and on the church social media.

Small Group Date, time and location will be announced soon.

On this first Sunday of Advent, so many centuries after the time of Christ, there is a pertinent question we might consider. What is the primary reason for our faith in Jesus Christ? Many Christians, perhaps a majority, would say that having faith is essential if one wishes to have heaven as a destination. Keeping the faith, it is widely thought, is how one avoids the eternal flames of fire, and is thus granted eternal life. And so, the focus of many people is "getting saved," which is seen as a strictly individual matter. But God in Christ is redeeming the world, not merely inoculating individuals one by one. Faith is trusting in God's love and living for the future fulfillment of God's redemptive purposes for creation.

What is this event called "the coming of the Son of Man?" Is it a reference to Christ's return at the end of time, culminating human history, which obviously hasn't happened yet? Or is it a reference to his spiritual presence at each person's individual death? Whatever it is, Jesus is telling us that we should live every day with eternity in view. He illustrates his point with a passage from the Old Testament. The people of Noah's time ignored all the warnings and remained unconcerned until the flood came and destroyed them. In our own time, when we are daily overwhelmed by news of the most recent catastrophes and war-like acts of violence, horrors beyond imagining, where are the signs of hope? Where do we find Christ in such a time? Let us at least learn from history so as not to repeat its mistakes!

The end of human history is wrapped in mystery for good reason. If we knew for sure when the journey was done, we would live in the meantime without the urgency and devotion that our faith demands. We are called to live each day as if it were the last day before the end.

Excerpt from Gold Label Publications

En este primer domingo de Adviento, tantos siglos después del tiempo de Cristo, hay una cuestión pertinente que podríamos considerar. ¿Cuál es la razón principal de nuestra fe en Jesucristo? Muchos cristianos, quizá la mayoría, dirían que tener fe es esencial si uno desea tener el cielo como destino. Se piensa ampliamente que mantener la fe es la forma de evitar las llamas eternas del fuego y así se le concede la vida eterna. Así que, el enfoque de muchas personas es "salvarse", lo cual se ve como un asunto estrictamente individual. Pero Dios en Cristo está redimiendo al mundo, no solo inmunizando a los individuos uno por uno. La fe es confiar en el amor de Dios y vivir para el cumplimiento futuro de los propósitos redentores de Dios para la creación.

¿Cómo se llama este evento "la venida del Hijo del Hombre"? ¿Es una referencia al regreso de Cristo al fin de los tiempos, que ha culminado la historia humana, que obviamente aún no ha ocurrido? ¿O es una referencia a su presencia espiritual en la muerte individual de cada persona? Sea lo que sea, Jesús nos está diciendo que debemos vivir cada día con la eternidad en mente. Ilustra su punto con un pasaje del Antiguo Testamento. La gente de la época de Noé ignoró todas las advertencias y permaneció indiferente hasta que llegó el diluvio y los destruyó. En nuestro tiempo, cuando cada día nos abrumba las noticias de las catástrofes más recientes y actos de violencia belicosos, horrores inimaginables, ¿dónde están las señales de esperanza? ¿Dónde encontramos a Cristo en un tiempo así? ¡Al menos aprendamos de la historia para no repetir sus errores!

El fin de la historia humana está envuelto en misterio por una buena razón. Si supiéramos con certeza cuándo termina el viaje, viviríamos mientras tanto sin la urgencia y la devoción que exige nuestra fe. Estamos llamados a vivir cada día como si fuera el último día antes del final.
